I had the pleasure of working with Mary on a project that involved creating content using Adobe Experience Manager (AEM), and I must say that she is one of the best AEM content authors I've worked with. Mary has an in-depth knowledge of AEM and is highly skilled in creating engaging and high-quality content for digital platforms. Mary is always willing to go the extra mile to ensure that the content she creates is not only visually appealing but also meets the client's objectives. Mary is highly organized and has excellent attention to detail, which ensures that all content is delivered on time and error-free.

Mary is also a great team player and collaborates well with designers, developers, and project managers. Mary's professionalism, positive attitude, and willingness to take on new challenges make her a valuable asset to any team.

Looking forward to working with you in the future. Good Luck.

Mary played a pivotal role in the successful delivery of a massive and complex State Web Modernization project as part of an Adobe Consulting team. She was a valuable member of the site migration team and demonstrated impeccable work throughout the project. Mary consistently delivered high-quality work with impressive speed and accuracy.

Moreover, Mary provided leadership and guidance to her team members and helped them navigate challenges and overcome obstacles. Her expertise and experience were instrumental in ensuring the project's success. I am confident that Mary would be an excellent fit for a Sr role on a web production team. and wholeheartedly recommend her for any such projects.

I worked with Mary on the State of Illinois' massive Web Modernization effort, where Adobe partnered with Illinois to migrate 60 sites to Adobe Experience Manager using a global Design Framework. Mary's role was an author for these sites, but more than just authoring, Mary took ownership of several of the sites moved over to Adobe Experience Manager, working as a liaison between the onshore and client teams and the offshore teams that did the base mass-migration efforts. The sites were not only migrated, but they also leveraged the design framework, which required a conversion from the legacy functionality used to manage dynamic and static pages into the new, enhanced components within Adobe Experience Manager.

Mary is hard-working, diligent and most of all, has a passion for all aspects of web production - code, content, and especially design. I've been producing web sites for over 20 years, and she's taught me some design tricks I didn't know. Plus, she's as tenacious as a bulldog when it comes to seeing projects through completion.

I worked with Mary for six months at Intel, where she was a web producer for the Web Marketing Team. Both of us were new to the team, and I valued her a fellow "outsider" bringing a fresh perspective. We partnered on several projects, and her attention to detail and her work ethic were critical to bringing them to fruition, especially on Intel PSG's biggest launch of 2017. The division we worked in was one transitioning into the larger Intel brand, leading to many situations where we were setting new standards website communications. Through it all Mary brought grace, patience, and valued insights to the table. I hope we get to work together again!

Mary was a great producer to work with. At Jabil, I was a project manager on a website redesign/content merge in AEM and worked with Mary directly on content updates and new page builds. Mary took direction quickly with a great attitude. What impressed me the most was the questions she asked when given an assignment. She really knows and understands the ins and outs of AEM and didn't hesitate to make a recommendation or point out something that might have caused unwanted outcomes. She has a positive attitude and was a pleasure to work with!

As her manager, working with Mary has been a great experience. She has a strong work ethic, often staying late to ensure something is completed correctly and on time. She has an impeccable eye for catching errors, which has helped the team deliver work with high quality. Mary cares about the work she produces, ensuring that it is the best that it can be. She is always willing to help and assist as needed, making her a valuable team player.

Mary is a wonderful web producer. As the web team lead at Symantec, I work with Mary on a day-to-day basis on a myriad of large and small projects, and she is one of the most focused, detail-oriented, and driven people I have ever worked with. She is team-focused, often sacrificing her personal time to make sure the job gets done. She is very intelligent and picks up new systems and procedures quickly. She has a wonderful work ethic, which is combined with her sunny disposition and extreme pride in her work. She is excellent at communicating, asking questions when needed, and making sure that the job is done correctly. She follows directions with accuracy, and also is capable of being self-directed when that is what is needed.

I would absolutely recommend her for your team. You will gain an employee that really cares and is very clearly capable of getting the job done, clean and on time.

Mary is one of the most eager employees I have had the pleasure to manage and work with. She is eager to do the best job she can, she is eager to learn more, and eager to ensure that her skill-set is always increasing. She cares about every aspect of what she does. I would not hesitate to recommend her nor would I hesitate to hire her again, if the circumstances allowed.

Working with Mary has been a blessing. She has a stellar work ethic, and is one of the strongest members of our team. However, despite being such a strong performer she is still one of the most humble, down to earth, and team oriented people I have had the pleasure to work with. She consistently puts the needs of the group before her own. She is always taking the initiative to find solutions to problems for herself and the team, and has found many useful tools and techniques that I have personally used and have had a positive impact in my own productivity. Whether working with a group, or on her own, she is an all star. I would highly recommend her to anyone who is looking for a driven, intelligent, team oriented and well-rounded professional.

Mary is fantastic to work with. We worked together on the corporate site redesign where I was the Product Owner for the web development team. Mary is personable, self-motivated to and a quick learner. She is diligent and hardworking and takes great pride in her work. Mary communicates with clarity, raises relevant questions and provides feedback effectively. She manages her time wisely and ensures she delivers high quality work on time, no matter how tight the deadlines might be. She works just as well as an individual contributor and as part of a team. Her good nature and solid work ethic make her a true pleasure to work with.
